

French Drive Germans From Hills Near Arras After a 120 Day Battle

On the Heights of Notre Dame de Lorette, near Arras, France, July 10.—(Via Paris, July 11).—After battling 120 days for the hill country between Bethune and Arras, French forces now hold all the eminences looking out on the plain of Flanders, Lille, Douai and Cambrai. Every position along the national road between Arras and Bethune has been won except Souchez, and last night another quarter mile of trenches in the Souchez web was torn away. The attack was made under bluish white, and the Germans' greenish white covering the scene of the conflict with a ghastly glow.

The most desperate fighting has been along a short ten-mile front from Arras to Aix Noullette which began March 9, with the taking of a few hundred yards of trenches. Every day since, some section of the German trenches has been taken, lost or retaken.

Each side has employed formidable artillery, the French guns being somewhat the more numerous, and served with unlimited quantities of high explosive shells.

Advocates Abolition Of Liquor And War

Chicago, July 11.—Addressing the Christian Endeavor convention here Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y., said:

"America's greatest single item of expenditure is for liquor; Europe's greatest single item of expenditure is for war. What is to be done? Answer: Abolish both. Wipe out war by arbitration; wipe out drink by prohibition." He asserted trade rivalry and jealousy are back of the present war.

Roy Creighton, of California, said moral conditions in high schools are such that they cannot be mentioned in mixed company. "California has the reputation of having the worst moral conducts in its schools, but this is only because the limelight has been turned on our schools," he said. "The same conditions exist throughout the United States."

Battleship Alabama Damaged.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 12.—Crossed electric wires caused a slight fire in one of the turrets of the United States battleship Alabama at the Philadelphia Navy Yard today. A number of Sunday visitors aboard were hastily sent ashore. The blaze was extinguished before damage was done.

Canadian Manufacturers To Arrange Ammunition

Ottawa, Ont., July 12.—Canadian manufacturers met here today to arrange a program for the manufacturer of ammunition, which will be submitted to a representative of the British Munitions Committee expected here from England this week. The big Canadian firms want to organize to produce ammunition effectively.

Unexpected D. wagon Routs Camping Party

Anticipating a great time, a party of Dothan boys pitched their tents on the banks of historic Beaver Creek, three miles from Dothan, a few days ago, but they did not know what was in store for them.

The boys were grouped around the camp fire, swapping stories and no doubt relating stirring tales of out-of-doors adventure, when suddenly rain began falling fast. Before the startled group realized what had happened, the water was up to their knees, and taking down their tents, which they held over their heads, the boys bent it to a place of safety.

Such is the story of a camping expedition that did not pan out well, and probably before such a trip is undertaken again, the boys will hold a consultation with the weather man. Those in the party were Wallace Murphy, John McGuire, Brannon Copeland, and Will Rae Pittman.

FORMER POLICE CAPTAIN HERE

J. Miles Smith, who four years ago was captain of the Montgomery police department, and who was one of the most efficient men ever holding that position, is in Dothan today, registered at the Newsom hotel.

Captain Smith is now representing the Mountain City Mills of Chattanooga, and is selling flour, meal and feed stuffs. When seen in the lobby of the hotel, Captain Smith, who is a hustler, was in a hurry to see some local customers. He is, however, the same pleasant heap he was when he wore a blue uniform and rode through the streets of Montgomery during the hours of the night and early morning when the mischief-makers are at their worst.

NEXT PRESS CONGRESS TO BE HELD IN SYDNEY

San Francisco, July 11.—Officers were elected and Sydney, Australia, was recommended today as the place for the next convention at the closing session of the International Press congress.

Resolutions were adopted providing a committee to draft changes in laws relating to libel, constructive contempt and the power of the judiciary to send newspaper men to jail without hearing or jury trial; and urging press and editorial associations to use their influence to improve conditions along those lines.

Walter Williams, dean of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, was elected president of the congress; A. R. Ford, of Ottawa, Ont., secretary and treasurer, and V. R. Beteta, Guatemala City; Captain J. W. Neigh, Sydney; Robert Bell, Ashburton, New Zealand; K. Sugimura, Tokio, and Herman Schoop, Berne, members of the executive committee. Two vice

GROCERY STORE BURGLARIZED

Bananas, sardines, canned chicken, soda water, chewing gum and other articles were taken from Hunter's Grocery Store, East Troy street, last night or early this morning by unidentified burglars.

The pilferers gained entrance by removing a bar and opening a window at the rear of the store, although they went out the back door, which was left open. The loss is slight. No clues were left.

SHORTAGE OF FOODSTUFFS.

Washington, July 11.—Confronted with shortages in wheat, sugar, butter and meat, Australia has resorted to government control of prices, according to a report to the Commerce Department, dated June 7, from Commercial Attache Down at Melbourne. A protracted drought, and the European war, are held responsible.

400 PRISONERS TAKEN

Laredo, Tex., July 11.—Four hundred VII soldiers captured at Laredo, and many wounded of both armies engaged in the battle have been taken to Monterey, it was announced by Carranza authorities in Neuva Laredo tonight. The battle was hailed as an important Carranza victory.

WOMEN MOVIE CENSORS.

Augusta, Ga., July 11.—The Augusta censorship committee, composed of women who are keeping a close watch on the character of the films shown at the various local houses, has requested the managers not to allow "The New Governor," ("The Nigger") to appear here. It had already been announced that one of the houses had made arrangements for its production in Augusta.

Mr. William Searcy and family have returned to Bainbridge, Ga., after visiting relatives here.

Weekly Boarders Wanted.

The New Central Hotel wants 10 or 12 boarders with both room and board and same number with meals alone. Our price will be low enough. Rooms, meals and service good enough to please any one. Fly and mosquito proof. Special and private apartments for ladies and families. Parlor with Steinway piano; large office, and writing room. Call-bell system, local and long distance telephones; large outside porch; two large outside alcoves. Phone 616 or call in person. 114 presidents were elected from each of the thirty-four countries in the congress.

Dr. Herman Schoop, of Berne, Switzerland, discussing censorship, said German newspapers had more liberty than the French while the Austria and Russian papers had little freedom. British papers criticized naval and military powers with freedom.

La Sun Ling, of Peking, vice president of the Chinese National Press association gave the Chinese press credit for the success of the revolution.

SHIPS AT SEA ARE WARNED OF BOMBS

Washington, July 11.—Warning to look out for bombs concealed in their holds was flashed tonight from the naval wireless towers at Arlington to two ships which sailed from New Orleans July 9.

Both the vessels, the British steamers Howth Head and Baron Napier, cleared with cargoes of mules for the British army July 8 and sailed the next day. The former for Belfast and Dublin via Norfolk, and the latter direct for Avonmouth.

Sending of the warning was ordered by Secretary Daniels after receipt of a telegram from a New Orleans newspaper saying a letter to that paper signed "Pearce" indicated that explosives had been placed aboard these vessels.

The Red Iron Racket Store.

owned and operated by Mr. C. C. Bush, of this city, is certainly following the slogan of "We Do Things in Dothan." Just a look across the street will convince those who are interested in Dothan that there is some class to that bargain store around the corner. Those beautiful plate glass windows with that classy Beaver Board background painted in a very nobby design is certainly attracting the attention of the public.

As Manager Katz says, We are not looking for big things at the present time, but just keep your eye open and we are going to show you what the Baltimore Bargain House is to Baltimore so will the Red Iron Racket be to Dothan.

At an early date Mr. C. C. Bush and the buying staff will leave for the big commercial centers. There they will make a careful tour of the best markets for real values. The management of the firm states that at all times they will keep the people posted of their special purchases and real bargain stocks.

The Red Iron Racket has already made a hit in this section for their low prices and the firm wishes to state that this store will continue to show the public real values at all times. The

MANY ARRESTS FOR SERIES OF FLORIDA CRIMES

Valdosta, Ga., July 11.—Much interest has been created around Greenville, Fla., and throughout that section by the latest developments in a series of mysterious murders there. Information received in Valdosta is to the effect that four well known white men, John Davis, Jack Bowman, Tom Maddox and Elliott Maddox, have been arrested in connection with the murder of W. E. Jenkins, a prominent citizen of Greenville, and his negro driver, two weeks ago.

Detectives working on the case are said to have obtained a full confession from John Davis, in which he implicated Bowman and the two Maddox. Davis, it is understood, admits that he was hired to kill Jenkins and that he and Jack Bowman fired the shot that ended the lives of the white man and negro. He says they were paid $150 for the job, but so far as known has not yet made public the name of the man who hired him. The negro driver was killed, so it was stated, to keep him from giving away the secret of the murder. The men under arrest are also charged with a recent attempt to murder Henry Jenkins, a merchant of Greenville, who was fired upon in his store at night.

Miss Irene Lantry left for Laverne today to be the guest of Miss Elizabeth Lathrop.

large show windows will be changed after Under-Manager Katz' personal supervision. Manager Katz is an expert card weller and window trimmer as well as an expert advertising man and if you care to see those classy city windows, when out for a walk, don't fail to visit the Red Iron Racket, you may find out a thing or two.

Just keep your eye on that bargain store around the corner. And again we want to say that C. C. Bush and Manager Katz certainly deserve credit for what they have already accomplished. Just like Manager Katz says, it pays to do things and advertise.

They Made Their Expenses.

Alabama pays the expense of her legislators and does not pretend to pay wages. The $4 a day doesn't pay for trips to conference.—Birmingham Ledger.

How about the recess committees? They seem to have made it pay pretty well. They have been drawing four dollars a day nearly every day since the legislature adjourned, and they were holding meetings in Birmingham at the time the conferences were held.—Montgomery Times.

The Times bears the distinction of being the only paper in Alabama that stays on both sides of every question. But with all this reputation, The Times ought to know better than to criticize the recess committees for spending money—say four dollars a day during the summer. Suppose you look over the list, and see if they haven't run down a few fellows who had possession of some of the State's money, unlawfully. See if they didn't make 'em pay it back into the state's treasury. The returned money thus found, we believe, will take care of the committee's expenses. Anyway, the people of Alabama are not objecting to the money the committees have cost the State.

Not Meant for Humor.

Atlanta Constitution. The answers of school children in their examination papers are not to be taken humorously. While there may be amateur humorists among the pupils, it is presumed that they are perfectly serious when it comes to writing themselves down for a promotion record.

That is why there has been such a general comment on an article by a writer who says he examined the papers of certain pupils of a public school in Philadelphia, in which the following answers to various questions were given:

Benjamin Franklin is the founder of electricity.

George Washington was a land savor.

Lord Raleigh was the first man to see the invisible armada. (English.)

Tennyson wrote In Memorandum.

Tennyson also wrote a poem called "Grave's Energy."

Louis XVI. was gelatinized during the French revolution.

Lincoln had a woman make him a suit of homespun from rails which he had split. They were hickory rails, hence hickory shirts.

Franklin produced electricity by rubbing cats backwards.

The minority is composed of the minors.

The spoils system: The place where spoiled things and waste are kept. The board of health has largely taken the place of this.

However the above may strike the reader: similar ones have been given by pupils of others cities, notably not long since by children of a New York city public school district, where there was evidence of even greater "darkness of ignorance."

Naturally, the towns where school children make such illuminating answers do not like the publicity of print, but that is the best thing that could happen for them. Their school teachers will doubtless take care that the youthful mind is more accurately informed in future in the various departments of school instruction.

Staggering Figures.

Brooklyn Times. Under the soil of 300 acres of Calvary cemetery lie 900,000 dead, 400,000 more slumbered in their graves in the 500 acres of Greenwood's shelter. A total of 1,300,000 in these two immense resting places of weary mankind, who closed their eyes in isolated cases of fatal illness, in accident or of old age, and many decades rolled down the slopes of time are this vast number of mounds was built over the remains of frail humanity. For orderly and slow is the procession from life to death as decreed by the Almighty.

But there lie today in Russia, in Galicia, in France, in Belgium, and in Flanders, the corpses of 2,150,000 men who died since the beginning of last August by the hand of other men, ruthlessly slaughtered in the bloom of life. They were mostly strong and happy, and glad of the sunshine, and laboring in the fields of peace. And then a few mad kings lashed them against each other, and so it happens that in the 11 months since the outbreak of the war nearly twice as many have died than were buried in scores of years in Calvary and in Greenwood. And trails of hot tears lead from more than 2,000,000 homes in the cities and in the hamlets of the warring countries to the blood-stained graves on the battlefields.

This is but one sidelight on the war to be gleaned from Red Cross figures recently made public: They give the total loss as 8,831,000, which, in addition to the dead alluded to, include 3,781,000 slightly wounded; 1,150,000 prisoners. And it may be assumed that these figures are far below the facts: for an official statement from Berlin just obtained, places the number of prisoners in the hands of the Germans and Austrians alone at 1,610,000.

However, for argument's sake, the Red Cross statistics may well be accepted. Their most remarkable feature conveys an excellent reason for the ability of the Germans to hold their own, for in killed and wounded and prisoners their losses are far smaller than those of the allies. Germany's and Austria's dead number only 823,000, while their enemies count 1,913,000 lost lives—every 10 Germans having killed 15 of their enemies. Now if it is considered that Austrian losses of 341,000 were incurred almost entirely on the Russian border, where the Czar's forces sacrificed 733,000; and that Germany's contribution to the silent army of 482,000 was made both in Russia and in France, while in the latter country and in Flanders alone the British and French lost 580,000 men in death, it follows that the military fury of the Germans seems to have a far more fatal effect, man against man and weapon against weapon than assaults of the allied soldiers. Even more amazing proportions are figured out in respect to the wounded and the prisoners. Of the former victims 1,358,000 are Germans and Austrians and 4,378,000 soldiers of the allies, each German wounded being offset by three wounded soldiers of the allies. And in prisoners, the Germans and Austrians lost 416,000 and their opponents 1,348,000.

These are staggering figures. They explain much. They tell the story of Germany's confidence in ultimate success; of England's uneasy groping for a means to make more of her young men obey the call to arms; of France's despair as she views her future, and of Russia's helplessness despite her immense population.

"All the world loves a lover,"—when he gets over it.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

The Rev. E. H. Jennings On Catholicism

(Editorial Note: This article was sent to The Eagle with request to publish it, but as no reference was made to the series of sermons on Catholicism by Rev. E. H. Jennings outside his regular weekly announcement, not printing any part of them, we didn't feel it our duty to give so much space to a religious question which cannot be settled through newspaper controversy. However, some of the members of the Catholic church here wanted it printed, and proposed to have it done as advertising matter, that it might be put before the people here.—Editor.)

By Rev. Father J. P. McKey,
Of Opelika.

STRANGER TO TRUTH

I do not like to say it, but it is a fact that Mr. Jennings is a panderer of falsehoods. He says that in some churches in Italy (he is too bashful to mention where these churches are, or the names thereof) there are held for the veneration of the poor deluded Catholics a bottle of Joseph's breath, a bottle of Egyptian Darkness, a feather of Gabriel's wing, etc.; that in Italy (same characteristic bashfulness) it is a common penance enjoined by the priest in confession to make the penitent crawl on hands and knees licking the floor from the church door to the sanctuary, leaving behind a trail of blood. If he really believes that these things are true, the gentleman has parted company with his reason; if he knows them to be false, he has long ago bade adieu to truth. And it is inconceivable that his audience could have swallowed all this without causing colic of the conscience. I want to know, and all right-minded Protestants want to know where these places are and the names of the churches. It is of no use to blame Dr. Eager or any other slanderer for these lies. If Mr. Jennings has made a "deep" study, he should have investigated these charges before he promulgated them. Suffer no lapse of memory, Mr. Jennings: we want to know where these places and churches are?

I have shown you that Mr. Jennings is ignorant of history, of logic, of Scripture, ignorant of his own Bible and its genesis, ignorant of his own creed, ignorant of his own church's stand in matters of education, ignorant of his own ministers' attitude towards the Catholic church, and blissfully ignorant of truth. We do not blame him for his ignorance so much as we do for his presumption to preach on what he is ignorant. And this man of such colossal ignorance presumes to tell the people of Dothan the things that the Catholic church believes. These are some of the things:

Catholics must believe in tradition manufactured by men; that indulgences are a permission to commit sin; that indulgences are a remission of sins committed; that unbaptized infants enter a place of suffering after death; that for adults repentance is not necessary for salvation; that penance does not mean repentance from sin; that apart from the ministry of the priest there can be no forgiveness of sin; that the Pope is considered as God; that the Pope cannot err in his moral actions, nor in science, nor in his private religious beliefs, nor in the private teachings of those religious beliefs; that the Pope can sell indulgences, dishing out so much grace for so much money; that the Pope can do almost everything that God can do; that the Pope can change the Divine Law, free from the precepts of the Ten Commandments. From the commands of the Gospel; that he has supreme power regardless of the Bible; that he can change the nature of things,—can make black white, and white black; can give permission to murder, steal, lie, commit adultery; that good works regardless of grace or faith are sufficient for salvation; that all Protestants are damned; that divine homage may be given to sacred images, pictures, relics of the saints, etc.; that divine homage may be given to the saints themselves, especially to Mary, the Virgin; that the Immaculate Conception practically makes her divine, etc.

In righteous indignation he stands up and cries: "What nefarious doctrine is this?" I am sure, I don't know; but I know what it isn't: it isn't Catholic doctrine. It is "oodles" of miles away from Catholic doctrine; and Mr. Jennings taking it for Catholic doctrine proves that in his "deep" study he has been looking not at the Catholic church, but what he might have thought was the Catholic church. It proves that the words of the Methodist minister, the Rev. J. B. Hemmison, are correct: "Not one Protestant in ten thousand knows the truth about the Catholic church. Not one Protestant in thousands ever gets information about the Catholic church from Catholic sources, from reading Catholic books, or anything that smells of Rome."

Mr. W. H. Sloan was formerly a Baptist minister. For twenty years he had been head of the Baptist missions in Mexico. Of such stuff as Mr. Jennings has dished out to the enlightened people of Dothan, Mr. Sloan remarks in the Catholic Banner of May, 1913:

"The 'Menace' contains nothing new to us. We ourselves engaged in writing and preaching such stuff probably before the 'Menace' was born. . . . We ourselves have waded through all the disgusting mire of slanderous attacks on the priests and nuns. We have anathematized the bishops who wanted to take public funds from the treasury for the support of Catholic institutions. We have cried to Heaven to defend our public schools against the insidious attacks of Rome. We have accused the Pope of lying awake at nights to devise some ways by which he might surreptitiously win over the United States to the Romanist cause. We have painted the ignorance of Mexico and South America in most lurid colors; and have reason to believe that much of the bigoted drivel now going the rounds of the Guardians of Liberty press, and heard in bigoted Protestant pulpits, had its origin in our sophomoric declarations years ago, when we traveled through the state, and inveighed in most bitter terms against the superstitions, immorality, ignorance and vice as found among the Catholic people where we labored. We were not entirely to blame; we were paid for doing it (as is the editor of the 'menace'); and we were easily persuaded that it was all the truth. We learned the truth after awhile. A compassionate God took violent hold upon us, lifted our feet out of the mire and placed them upon the Rock. We have since sought to know the truth before reviling the religion of any man."

We care not what Mr. Jennings will say to the above, but we do care about his answering the following questions:

1. The Catholic church does not endorse everything that Tetzels said, but where on earth did you see that he said, "I will give you letters, all properly signed, by which even the sins you intend to commit will be pardoned." "A trifle will liberate the souls of parents, friends, etc., from hell." Kindly give us page and volume of your authority.
2. In what work, and on what page does Newman say that the change from paganism to Christianity was only nominal?
3. In what work and on what page does Newman say that nothing is right or wrong, good or evil within itself?
4. In what work and on what page does Newman say that the teachings of the church must be accepted without regard to the dictates of conscience?
5. Have you read any of Beltramo's works?
6. In what work and on what page does he say that the Pope can do almost anything that God can do; that the Pope can exempt one from the observance of the Divine law and from the precepts of the Gospel; that he can change the nature of things, etc.
7. Where in the records of the Council of Trent will it be found that Pius IV decreed that whoever should read the Scriptures should not be absolved from his sins?
8. Who was the priest of Athens, Georgia, who told the young man that he must never seek to understand the Bible? You were told by someone? Will you give name and address of informant? If you have made a "deep" study of the Roman Catholic church, you will have no trouble in answering the questions. If you have not, you will tell me that you read the statements in and anti-Catholic book, and that you never took the trouble to find out if the book lied or not. If you have made a course in anti-Catholic literature, you will refuse to answer my questions, will say that you shall not be dictated to, will try to answer my arguments with loose reasonings, but if you are going to save yourself in the eyes of the self-respecting people of Dothan, you will kindly answer what I kindly ask.

And the people of such a progressive little town like Dothan, with its breeziness and its civic pride, I would ask not to harken to calls to narrowness of vision. I would ask you rather to harken to the words of the Baptist minister, the Rev. E. A. Hook, of Lock Haven, Pa., writing in the Lock Haven "Express," June 4, 1915: "Let us warn every stranger or who comes into our town to gain an audience of our people, be he preacher or evangelist, that he must not give utterance to any expression that shall give offense to our Jewish and Roman Catholic friends. . . . Let us shun the Calamity Flower, the alarmist, and those who attempt to fill their pockets by publishing the lying and riot-breeding literature that seeks to stir up hatred and enmity between Protestantism and

Roman Catholicism.

BAD SIGN TO TAP ON WOOD

Clergyman Expresses the Opinion That Luck Signal Is Expressing Doubt in God.

Every time a person "taps on wood" to counteract the seeming foolishness of having declared that he hasn't "had a sick day this year" or some such piece of good fortune, he is admitting that his God is no better than those of the heathen, of an envious and quarrelsome disposition, who dislike to see human beings at all exuberant over their luck, according to the Rev. Charles Wood, who preached last night on "Temporary and Permanent Peace," at the Church of the Covenant. He was exhorting the congregation to make peace with God and to believe in him as a kind Father.

Speaking of peace in Europe, Doctor Wood said: "Humanity has needlessly lost faith in peace conferences, culture, and even Christianity in some cases, though it was only the lack of faith that allowed the breaking out of hostilities. Many wonder if war may not become a permanent condition in the world. This is palpably impossible. It is impossible to reckon out the duration of the war by comparing statistics of natural resources of the countries engaged and their periods of exhaustion, but it is easy to see that war, being an abnormal condition, is bound to end in time, like a fire or plague."

"However, peace will be nothing but an armed truce until humanitarian diplomats, if we can join these two words, come together with the idea of an entirely equitable adjustment, and with a Christian spirit." —Washington Post.

SAVING THE HALF CENT.

In these times, when every little that can be saved on the living expenses of the poor counts, I would suggest that the United States government coin a half-cent, which would be of great benefit to those who must count every cent of expenses.

For instance, if one wished to buy a half-pound of coffee, at 25 cents a pound, one would be obliged to pay 13 cents; with a half-cent piece in use there would be a saving of half a cent. There are many other things, too numerous to mention, that could be bought by poor people, especially fruit. One often sees apples and bananas sold two for one cent. If a poor person had a half-cent he could buy one, when he did not need two.—New York Times.

MILD GLOATING.

"You have no anarchistic tendencies, I hope?" said the altruist.
"None in particular," answered the dusty pedestrian, "but sometimes I can't repress a chuckle, when I hear the air escaping from a punctured automobile tire."

REDUCING THE OVERHEAD.

"I see you have let your business manager go."
"Yes, I didn't see the need of him. I had to get the business. What I got he was willing to manage."

ALIKE IN THEIR FEELINGS

Sample of the Unhappy Condition Created by the Great Conflict in Europe.

They were sitting in a cafe near Washington square. On the table between them lay a "war extra" with staring headlines. The big, blond man, a typical Teuton, was talking loudly with many gestures; the small, dark man, unmistakably Gallic, listened—save for an occasional flash of the eye—with apparent calm. Two later comers at a nearby table watched them.

"Do you understand German?" asked one. "Can you tell me what the big fellow is saying?"

"I can make out most of it," replied his companion, "and I know who the men are: Johann Schuh and Pierre Dumont."

"Jove!" exclaimed the first, as the big man leaned forward and pounded the table vehemently, "he'll be pitching into the little chap next."

"Oh, no," said the other spectator, "the two agree to a dot. Johann is calling the Germans 'Lumpen' and 'Diebe' and 'verdammt Schweine' and about every other abusive name he can lay tongue to. Queer, isn't it, when he can speak hardly a word of any other language but German? But, you see, he happens to be an Alsatian. His national hymn of hate is directed accordingly." —New York Evening Post.

PROFITS OF SHEEP MEN CUT

Depredations of Dogs Cause Immense Annual Loss to the Raisers of the Animals.

Thirty-six of the states of the Union are classified as agricultural states. The United States department of agriculture has recently completed an estimate of the number of sheep killed by dogs every year. The estimate is based upon figures collected for 1913. It shows that in the 36 agricultural states the annual loss totals 107,240. Ohio's loss reaches 15,800 yearly; Indiana, 12,000; Iowa, 11,000; Kentucky, 8,600; Illinois, 1,920 and other states in proportion.

The total loss compared with the number of sheep shown by the 1910 census seems small. It is less than one per cent of the sheep population of the country. However, that sheep grower who is getting a return of five per cent on his investment, taking one year with another, is doing well. This makes a loss of one per cent loom up dangerously. Nor is the loss of one per cent from dog depredations the worst feature of the situation. The dread of what dogs may do to the flock in preventing any increase in sheep keeping. To the question, "What causes are preventing an increase in sheep raising?" 531 of 894 growers answered "Dogs."

MORE PRECIOUS THAN LIFE.

One American with the legion was telling me of a zouave battalion that was fighting in the same part of the line with him, and at a charge of the zouaves the commandant suddenly cried out, "Lie down," as a hail of German shells came over them. They all dropped but one.

"Nom de Dieu, lie down!" the lieutenant colonel called out, furiously, to the one man.

This zouave tapped his large pocket and called back to his chief: "Mon colonel, I can't! I've got a quart bottle full of wine in here and it hasn't any cork in it." —Boston Journal.

TRUE ENJOYMENT OF LIFE

Certain Periods of Outdoor Recreation
a Necessity for Mental Existence.

An inquirer, referring to an article in the Bankers' Magazine relative to the health of bankers, is thus answered by Doctor Evans, the scientific hygienist:

"A bank man should have an examination once a year to determine the condition of the kidneys, arteries, heart and nerves. He should arrange so as to have a daily period for exercise in the open air. He cannot keep fit except by following a plan of maintaining fitness, since bank life is one to which the human animal does not automatically adjust itself."

We are all interested in the bankers—that they keep in good health, for the general aspect of business takes its flavor from their physical health. But the remark applies quite as well to all our big business men whose work is entirely indoors in comfortable chairs, where the sedentary and unhealthy life is most attractive. The human animal cannot live its best sorting over notes and inspecting ledgers. It needs outdoors among the trees and on the banks of streams where the funny tribe dwells. Get out where the smiles of the blue skies awaken the kidneys and the nerves to action.—Columbus Journal.

SLIPPER "CAME BACK."

Here is a curious little war story that was related to me by its "hero." He is a British officer who is home from the fighting front on a short leave, having injured one foot rather severely. Meanwhile he is going about in "muffs" and is wearing a carpet slipper on his injured foot.

The other day while he was traveling down from Hampstead to Wimpole street in a London motor bus to see his surgeon, a woman opposite him in the vehicle leaned over and inquired how long he had been back from France. Considerably surprised, and wondering if he was confronted by a seeress or a feminine Sherlock Holmes, he explained, and then asked how she knew that he was a soldier and had been in France.

"It is quite simple, really," smiled the fair one. "You see, I made that slipper that you are wearing and sent it to the front!"

AN APPROPRIATE NAME.

In a school in a Jewish district of the city they were discussing a change of name for the school, and the tendency of the board of education to use names of illustrious men as an inspiration had been commented on.

A bright little fellow in the front seat raised his hand for recognition. "I think, Mr. C.," he said, "that we ought to call this the Lincoln school. There are so many Abrahams in it."

HOW TO PICKLE PEACHES.

(By Emmet A. Jones.)

Pickling peaches is probably the hardest part of the process of preserving and pickling peaches. This Bureau is receiving a number of inquiries on this subject and we are mailing out the following short cut that can be used by the family as well as by the canning clubs.

Dissolve a can of concentrated lye in two gallons of boiling water. Immerse peaches in this solution from 1/2 to 1 minute then rinse off in cold water. A wire basket will be found handy in connection with this process.

After the peaches have been removed from this solution and rinsed in cold water the skin can be readily wiped off with a wet cloth and deposited in cold water. There is no danger of lye poisoning in this process, but as a matter of precaution, a tea cup full of vinegar can be added to the cold water that the peaches are placed in after the skin is removed. This will neutralize the alkali.

The Markets Bureau has assembled a valuable collection of literature and data on the subject of canning and preserving fruits, for the benefit of the public and same will be cheerfully furnished to any citizen of Alabama upon request.

One of the features of this office is to teach the farmers and the housewives how to use the facilities of the State and Federal Department of Agriculture. Considerable valuable literature on many subjects of direct interest to the people is available and it is only necessary for those seeking such information to make their requests known to this office.

IN THE CARPATHIAN PASSES

Wild Country Where Teuton and Slav
Are at Present Struggling for Supremacy.

A description of the High-Tatra mountains, within whose shadows the titanic struggle between the Teutons and the Slavs for control of Hungary is being waged, has been prepared by the National Geographic society. It is as follows:

"Strongest of all the natural barriers that are opposed to the Russian advance upon their German and Hungarian enemies are the massive, crescent-shaped Hobe Tatra mountains, the central and the highest group of all the Carpathian system. These mountains, forming a gigantic wall of more than forty miles in length and between nine and fifteen miles in width, lie almost due south of Cracow and about due north of Budapest. The passes where the Russians have been forcing their weeks of terrible mountain campaigning lie considerably to the eastward of the Hobe Tatra.

"The Hobe Tatra mountains are the highest in Hungary, rising to a number of peaks beyond 8,000 feet. The Franz Josef, or Gierlsford peak, the highest in the Carpathian system, attains an altitude of 8,537 feet. The mountain presents many impassable, high, sheer wall faces, and there is to be found among them some of the wildest scenery beyond the Alps."

SLUMP IN PRICE OF LEAD

Drop Last October Was the Lowest in Fifteen Years, Despite a Big Output.

The price of lead, instead of being enhanced by the European conflict, actually slumped in October to the lowest point reached in the last fifteen years, although 100,000 more tons of the refined metal was produced in 1914 than during the previous year, declares the advance statement just issued by the geological survey. The exports of lead from this country to Europe since the war began have not increased in proportion to the increase in exports of zinc and some other metals.

The total production of refined lead from both domestic and foreign ores was 512,122 short tons, compared with 462,460 tons in 1913. The production of refined lead from domestic ores was 512,291 tons, an increase of 100,916 tons over the record figures reached in 1913.

No domestic pig lead had ever been exported from the United States prior to 1911. Generally the price of lead in this country, owing to the tariff, exceeds the price abroad.

Lead was consistently higher in London in 1914 than in New York, and this, together with the scarcity of Mexican lead, caused the large exports of domestic lead.

JITNEYS TO OUST TAXIS.

The widely known jitney is out and about like the flowers of spring over this whole broad land. It may prosper or it may not, and time will tell; but there are one or two things to notice concerning "the craze," as street railway people call it.

The jitney's success is the taxi-cab's failure. The latter has never been much more than an instrument of luxury, bluff, or crime in many of our cities (see the movies for proof). The taxicab people have not given the service.

Most folks help pay for paved streets; they like to ride thereon in motor cars, and the jitney gives them a chance at nothing else ever did. If it gives real service, it will last.—Collier's Weekly.

HER DAYS.
Laughing, she met the days that danced to meet her,
And kissed them on the lips,
in comradeship;
All spring bloomed new to joy
her, sweeter, sweeter,
Each day came tripping to Youth's piping, fleet,
She laughed out in abandon—
Life was good.

One day brought Love; a later
brought sweet mating;
And after long days drifted,
like a kine,
The sweetest day, and whispered
to her fating
A sweeter still: "You help tied in creating A soul." She smiled "No day brought joy like this."

Big Corn Crop

The prospect for a big corn crop is better than ever before in the history of Alabama. All stage of corn look well from the early upland to the young corn
following stubble.

The recent rains which have been general over the entire State have been very beneficial, but continued too long in some sections. Practically no harm has resulted from the rains only to delay cultivation and start a crop of young vegetation.

Now is the critical time in the management of a corn crop. I have seen many fine prospects practically ruined by the last cultivation (laying by). The soil is full of little white roots seeking moisture and plant food. The plants are growing fast and preparing to fruit and need the work of all these little roots to enable them to do their best. The weeds and grass need to be destroyed and the crust prevented from forming so as to hold the moisture.

The best implement that can be used is a wide scrape and a short plow or a light spring tooth cultivator. The cultivation should not be more than an inch deep,
just enough to destroy the vegetation and prevent crust. By all means do not use the turning plow or pile too much soil up around stalks. There is more corn ruined with deep plowing and wrapping up the rows with a turning plow each year than all such implements are worth.
Lock up the turning plows until time to prepare another crop,
it is not fit and never was intend-

HOW TO MAKE AND KEEP THE ROADS SMOOTH

The traffic on earth and gravel roads has a constant tendency to develop ruts, chuck holes, and depressions. The chief aim and purpose of road maintenance is to prevent and remedy this destructive action. To be successful and efficient, road maintenance
must be systematic and continuous. Haphazard work is expensive and unsatisfactory.

If the road is very rough and uneven or the crown very low
the road machine or grader is very efficient for placing it in shape. One must guard, however,
against the all too common practice of scraping the soil and other vegetable matter and refuse from the sides and ditches on to the road. In general on the clay and heavy soil roads all vegetable or spongy material should be carefully excluded. Such materials absorb moisture readily and furnish but little resistance against wear. The road surface should be built up with the best material possible—material which will pack and consolidate under traffic and which will be as nearly water-proof as possible and will wear uniformly.

In general the road machine or grader should be used in the spring of the year while the ground is moist and in such condition that it will work easily,
and at the same time pack well under passing traffic. Considerable skill and judgment is required to use the road grader to the best advantage. An ex-skilled and careless operator will sometimes actually leave the road in a worse condition than when he began work. Do not scrape sod and refuse into the road. Good earth is far better as it will not decay nor absorb moisture so readily. Do not be guilty of the too common practice of leaving a windrow of clods or loose earth along the middle of your road to impede traffic and absorb water at the first rain. Leave the roads smooth over the entire surface and traffic will spread and be less likely to produce ruts. Always use the grader in such a way as to make the road better and not worse for the passing traffic.

When the road has been placed in good condition as to crown and smoothness the road drag is the best tool for maintaining it in that condition. Drag the road
after each rain while the surface is still moist but not sticky. Use a light drag and move only a very little earth, just sufficient to fill the ruts and depressions and leave a slight surplus if the crown is low. Ride on the drag and shift your position according to the amount of earth necessary to be moved. If the rain has been of long duration it may be advisable to drag the road twice, first very soon after the rain and again when the clay is drying out or beginning to set.

Do not drag a dry road. Successful dragging is dependent on a certain amount of water or moisture in the road surface.
Practically all clays and most soils, if not too sandy will puddle if worked when wet, and on drying out will set very hard. The drag in connection with traffic is essentially a puddling machine,

which, when properly used,
leaves the road surface crowned
and covered with a smooth layer
of puddled and densely packed soil. This layer is as nearly imperious to water as it is possible to make it. Following rains find little or no place for lodgement
as the water quickly runs off to the side ditches. Unless the rain is long continued the road surface is not softened to any great depth. The prompt use of the drag after each rain leaves the surface smooth and ready to withstand the next storm.

Therefore to make your road smooth, use a road machine or grader to put it in proper shape in the spring of the year. To keep your road smooth, use the road drag judiciously after each rain. This will keep an earth or gravel road in the best shape in which it is possible to maintain it throughout the year.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dothan's Liver Tonic" Starts Your Liver
Better Than Calomel and Does't
Sicken or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work!
Calomel is mercury or quicksilver
which causes necrosis of the bones.
Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dothan's Liver Tonic on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to my drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dothan's Liver Tonic. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money back. Dothan's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real live medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not sicken or make you sick.
I guarantee that one spoonful of Dothan's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste
which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dothan's Liver Tonic will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.
